Uncle Sam Buying Land Dreadnaughts

Washington, Sept. 20.—Twenty seven catamaran tractors, similar to those converted into "land dreadnaughts" tanks by the British in northern France, will soon be a part of the United States army war paraphernalia. The same Peoria, Ill., firm which supplied the British with the engines for the armored fighting monsters, has contracted to build the huge tractors for this government. They are to be delivered within ninety days.

The tractors will weigh between 12,000 and 14,000 pounds. This is considerable below the weight of the tractors furnished for Great Britain. Their price will be $4,775 each. It will cost $1,000 additional for encasing them in armor.

Colonel Rice of the ordnance department explained today that while these tractors could easily be turned into land dreadnaughts similar to the British "tanks", it is unlikely this will be done.

"Conditions here would not call for such engines of war," said Colonel Rice. "In the first place, it is not likely that war in America would develop into trench warfare because of the enormous distances, except where

In Jamaica there are trees called the "whip trees," and from these the natives make strong whips with the lash and handle all in one.

THE MARKETS

The following prices for fruits and vegetables are those asked by the wholesaler of the retailer, and not what is paid to the producer. All other prices are those paid the producer. Corrections are made daily.

Oats are showing signs of weakness and today are quoted at 35 and 28 cents. Wheat is steady, the local price depending on the quality and cleanliness.

The cattle market is steady but there is a feeling that higher prices may be looked for.

Potatoes to the grower are worth about 90 cents to $1 a hundred.

The sugar market is firm and there is a hunch coming over the wire to-day that another advance of 10 or 15 cents a hundred may be announced within the week.
